

Norelius Community Library

WEATHER POLICY

The Norelius Community Library is an essential city service. When possible, the Library will remain open during severe weather. However, severe weather at any time of year may necessitate delaying opening of the Library, or closing the Library after it has opened. The decision to close early will be made by the Director or designated staff member, upon consulting with the Board President or next senior Board member.

Every attempt will be made to give patrons and staff a 30-minute warning that the Library will be closing early due to deteriorating weather conditions.

Messages about closings, early closings, and delayed openings will be provided to KDSN radio station.
